

Update: The Spanish gas system covers total demand during today's power outage in Spain

Madrid, 28 April 2025. The Spanish gas system covered the entire demand during today's power outage in Spain and operated safely at all times.

Enagás has activated the necessary emergency systems to respond to the needs of the gas system. The company's Crisis Committee has been in permanent coordination with the Ministry for Ecological Transition and the Demographic Challenge, the Spanish National Centre for Critical Infrastructure Protection (CNIPIC), the Spanish electricity operator Red Eléctrica, and the operators of neighbouring countries, France and Portugal.

The demand for natural gas is increasing to supply the combined cycle plants, which are enabling the gradual recovery of the electricity system.
